Summary

I am a Security Analyst passionate about embedding security into every stage of the software development lifecycle. My focus lies at the intersection of DevSecOps, Application Security, and Container Security (Docker)—ensuring that rapid software delivery never comes at the expense of robust security. With a solid foundation in Information Technology, I specialize in bridging the gap between engineering and security teams, automating security controls, and advocating for a "security-as-code" culture. #Core Technical Expertise: DevSecOps: Integrating security tooling into fast-paced DevOps workflows. Application Security: Vulnerability management, threat mitigation, and secure coding practices. Container Security: Securing and hardening Docker container environments. Education: Bachelor of Technology (B.Tech) in Information Technology — Dayananda Sagar Institutions Always open to connecting with fellow cybersecurity professionals, DevOps engineers, and tech innovators. Feel free to reach out!
